Nineteen-year-old autistic artist Alex Lim, famously known as The Unskilled Boy, has reached a significant milestone in his burgeoning career by completing his 500th painting. To commemorate this achievement, he has released a captivating new series titled "Scenes," featuring a blend of quirky indoor and outdoor moments.

A Milestone Achievement in Art

Alex Lim began his professional artistic journey at the age of 15. Over the past four years, he has produced an impressive 500 paintings, encompassing 10 special series, four exhibitions, and numerous commissioned works from brands and individual buyers. His artistic talent has been recognized with the Shining HeARTS 2023 award, organized by North East CDC. Alex also participated as an Individual Artist at the fourth edition of the Shaping Hearts art festival last year and is set to exhibit five new paintings at the festival later this year.

"Scenes": A Celebration of Everyday Life

The "Scenes" series is a mixed-media collection that combines acrylic paints, impasto, acrylic pens, and ink. This latest work captures an array of vibrant outdoor scenes and intimate indoor moments. Each piece reflects Alex's keen observations and unique interpretation of everyday life, infusing humour and emotion into bustling public areas and quiet home settings.

Artwork Details and Availability

Each painting in the "Scenes" series is available in four sizes:

- Standard: 26 x 21 cm for SGD82
- Other Sizes: 40 x 50 cm, 60 x 90 cm, 60 x 121 cm

Buyers will receive a serialized and signed 500th Painting Artist Certificate with their purchase. Delivery is free within Singapore, except for Sentosa and Tuas, where a SGD30 fee applies.

Special E-Shop Promotion

To celebrate the launch of "Scenes," Alex Lim's e-shop is offering a special promotion on all in-stock paintings until July 30, 2024:

- TUB10: SGD10 off with a minimum spend of SGD120
- TUB20: SGD20 off with a minimum spend of SGD200
- TUB30: SGD30 off with a minimum spend of SGD300

Explore Alex Lim's unique artistic vision and celebrate this milestone by visiting his e-shop. Embrace the humour and emotion of everyday life through the eyes of The Unskilled Boy.
